

2022 KOREA FINTECH WEEK OPENS

The 4th annual global fintech expo, 2022 Korea Fintech Week will be held for three days from September 28 to 30 for both on-site (Lotte Hotel Seoul) and online viewing. Fintech businesses and experts from at home and abroad participate.

WELCOMING REMARKS BY FSC CHAIRMAN

FSC Chairman Kim Joo-hyun delivered welcoming remarks at the opening ceremony. He spoke about the economic, financial and regulatory environment surrounding the fintech ecosystem and the government's policy direction to promote fintech. The following is a summary of Chairman Kim's remarks.

Korea's fintech industry expanded its size significantly in terms of the number of businesses in operation. However, recent global fintech rankings show Korea's ranking dropped from 18th in 2019 to 26th in 2020. And currently, fintech firms are facing challenges from expanding platform-based big tech companies and financial institutions which accelerate digitalization. Fintech firms also experience difficulties in attracting investments amid tightening monetary policies around the world. Besides, there are continuing concerns about inflexible regulations in the financial sector.

In response to rapidly changing conditions surrounding the fintech industry, the government will act in a more agile manner to support fintech businesses in four aspects. First, the government will improve the financial regulatory sandbox program to promote commercialization of fintech services in order to make fintech startups to utilize this program more actively. Second, the government will examine and strengthen the financial support infrastructure to facilitate investment and funding on fintech firms. Third, the government will work to expand regulatory flexibility for artificial intelligence (AI)-based services and the rules on cloud computing use and network separation. Fourth, through a fundamental reexamination of current regulations, the government will actively pursue digital regulatory reforms throughout the whole financial industry.

In addition, the government will continue to communicate with fintech businesses, listen to their voices and seek solutions on the spot and help establish a policy environment that promotes a virtuous cycle of financial innovation. In this regard, the Korea Fintech Week can help introduce Korea's innovative fintech service cases abroad and inform overseas fintech innovation cases to Korea, thereby providing a venue to connect the world and achieve a virtuous cycle.
